About the artist

The landscapes and seascapes of self-taught artist Philemon Campbell, first attracted the attention of local art lovers and tourists in the Blue Mountains of his native Jamaica. "Jamaican Perspectives" is his second exhibition in Canada since immigrating to the country in 1988. The collection exposes viewers to rural village life and the folkculture of Jamaica as they journey with him across lush mountain terrain, through flowers and foliage to the rivers and the sea. Philemon's artistic talents are by no means confined to painting. He is the Graphic Designer/Art Director at the renowned Ontario-based company, De Boer's.
